

YAWC

eLearning Edition

Fast, reliable eLearning Content Publishing

With YAWC eLearning from XML Workshop, publishing online learning content is a simple, cost-effective and user-friendly process. This fast, reliable, server-based solution allows academic staff to create course material using Microsoft Word or PowerPoint. It then transforms their documents into web pages, using a pre-defined HTML template for immediate online use. So, no matter how many different educators contribute online learning content, every page will have a consistent, professional style.

3 Simple Steps for Online Content Publishing

Create – Simply create, edit and format documents using Word or PowerPoint.

Convert – Upload documents to the YAWC server, where it is converted into HTML.

Publish – Now the content is in HTML format, you can publish to your website or LMS.

Benefits of YAWC eLearning

Server-based – YAWC eLearning is a server-based solution, so users access it via a browser (unlike other solutions, which have to be installed on every user's PC). You save time and cost on implementation and maintenance, and new users can be added easily.

Fast and Reliable – YAWC eLearning doesn't depend on VBA macros for conversion, so it converts documents quickly and reliably every time, enabling authors to efficiently convert and preview their material as often as they like.

User-friendly – Users only need basic computing knowledge to produce consistent, web-ready content.

Cost-effective – YAWC eLearning is one of the most cost-effective online content publishing solutions available on the market, and we offer a range of flexible price plans.

Functionality – YAWC eLearning supports both Word and Powerpoint documents, Multi-Page Output, HTML and Rich Media Interactions, as well as Mathematical Equation Conversion.

Standards compliant – YAWC eLearning complies with WAI Accessibility Level 3, SCORM and IMS standards.

Implementation Options

YAWC eLearning Server

YAWC eLearning Server is installed on your internal servers and managed centrally by you. This option gives you complete control over the solution and allows you to customise and integrate it easily to suit your own environment. This option is ideal for organisations that already have their own expert IT staff.

YAWC eLearning ASP

Alternatively, we can act as an Application Service Provider, hosting and managing the application on our dedicated servers, saving you the time, effort and cost of implementing and managing and supporting the application. We can have you up and running in days.

To find out more about YAWC eLearning Content Publishing, visit our stand for a demonstration and receive your FREE trial.